

3. Write a program to demonstrate how load is increased in JMeter

To increase load in JMeter, you can use the following approaches:

Increase the number of threads in a Thread Group: This is the simplest way to increase load. To do this, right-click on the Thread Group node and select Edit. In the Thread Group Properties dialog box, increase the value of the Number of Threads field.

